Charting your international journey

ZURICH®

When the time is right for your strategic vision to expand to include growth, income, production and diversification opportunities abroad, recognize that international opportunities come packaged with new and often challenging risks.

Risks tied to:

1 Obtaining licenses and complying with local country business, insurance and tax regulations

2 Hiring foreign employees and protecting domestic employees when traveling abroad

3 Trade credit and risk exposures as well as staying on top of critical supply chains

4 Securing the right insurance coverages, capacity and terms to protect foreign assets and respond to liability exposures

We're here to help you take on the world

Zurich can help you make your international vision a reality, with the knowledge and counsel of professionals who know the territory. We have the global footprint, risk management services, tailored solutions and local experience to help you expand your horizons and successfully manage your changing risks. With a global reach extending to 210 countries and territories, we are able to deliver coordinated international programs and customer services when and where you need them.
